

Know Your Heart

Know your heart and live your dreams let all of them all come true you say, you're pressed for time but you should know what you have to do let your heart and not your brain show you how you can win time is short but now's the time you should know where you have been

I can help you open your heart I know all love's schemes take a chance and let my heart fulfil all of your dreams

If dreams stay in your heart they'll fester and sully your brain love is the answer and living in love should be your only aim
