

Incompatible

I love living and I love giving I love caring and I love sharing but you're captive in your prison there's no room for my vision and I'm alone with my dreams.

There's an alert showing on my screen and I've asked myself what does that mean?
come on let me access your system those hands I can't resist them. but we're not compatible my database is here waiting for you alone and feeling, oh so blue but my system has crashed and my hopes are all smashed and we're not compatible

Could your hardware
take my software?
how are things
way up high aloft there? is there a bug sitting on your line?
or won't you just download mine?

I've tried so hard to disperse a deep freeze on my cursor but I just can't re-boot and start up 'cause this thing it eats my heart up and I know we're incompatible
