

When We Meet Again

When we meet again
Although they are in my eyes
I will leave my tears outside the door

When we meet again
I'll smile and say, "How are you?"
Although my heart wants to say much more

When we meet again
As I know we will
I will keep my peace
And say to my heart, "Be still"

When we meet again
I'll try to stop my eyes from crying
But I'll think to myself,
I loved you
